New York, Sept. 14.—The Times' Washington special says; The prisoner Wirz is suffering from a severe degree of nervous prostration. He has been growing more and more nervous as the trial has proceeded, and at every recital of some additional act of revolting cruelty, he suffers increased agony of mind. He has more feeling than appears by his expressionless countenance; he now cents his hore.

He has more feeling than appears by his expressionless countennies; he now rests his hope for escaping extreme punishment on the ground that others higher in authority are being positive-ly inculpated by testimony as it is developed.

mical to the government, are seizing on the fact of a further issue of compound interest notes to assert that the volume of the currency is being largely increased. This is untrue, all the compound interest notes now being put out are exchanged for those of older date, bearing interest, which accumulation of interest is sayed the government by the cancellation of old notes, as they are used in exchange for the five per cent notes, or for the redemption of certificates of indebtedness. The volume of the currency has only been increased to a small degree during the past summer, which shows as a remarkable fact, in view of the enormous requisitions from the War Department. In closing up the accounts of the army no other country did anything like it, and the Secretary of the Treasury no t only considers the present condition of the finances favorable, but believes it in his power to meet all the requisitions previous to the meeting of Congress without any expansion of the currency.

Contemplated Withdrawal of Troops from the South.

New York, Sept. 14.—By a special to the Herald, dated Washington 13th, it is understood here that it is contempiated by the President to entirely withdraw the troops from the South in a short time, leaving the States lately in rebellion, to reorganize on a basis of civil government, precisely as they stood before the late war, with the exception of slavery. This policy is said to have risen through the good sense of the leading Southern men themselves, in accepting the present position of affairs as disclosed in the interview between President Johnson and a considerable deputation of their leading men at the White House, the other day. Thus the late Slave States will not have a soldier left among them, save such as may be required to garrison the several forts and these, as in the Northern States, will be retained in active service only for the purpose of meeting any emergency that may arise from the action of foreign powers.

Mail, sets forth his platform as follows:

11. To preserve and maintain the constitutional Union, it will be our effort to draw together into a conservative party that element of our populative party that element of our population which, free from the precipitators on the other, will restore the majesty of the States, and average the violation of law and order.

III. The support of our able and patriotic executive, Gov. Parsons, is the duty of every good citizen.

IV. The policy of President Johnson is the only true solution of the problem of restored government to the States.

V. We shall contend with the great statesman of the northwest, that this was intended by our fathers to be a government of white men, and will therefore oppose any amendment to the federal constitution which looks to a change in the present basis of representation. The Anglo Saxon and the Latin races must and shall remain dominant upon this continent. The privilege of suffrage is not a necessary result of political liberty. It is a privilege and not a right, and being such, it is a question of domestic policy whether it should not rather be restricted than extended.

FENIANISM IN IRELAND.—The rapid levelopment of the Fenian organization n spite of the avowed opposition of the Catholic Church, and the hostility of the entire Irish press, is one of the most singular features of the latest news re-ceived from Europe. Evidence of the extended ramifications of the brother-HALIFAX, Sept. 14.—The steamer Asia from Liverpool 2d and Queenstown 3d, has arrived.

The manufacture of the new Atlantic Cable has commenced. The Great Eastern has been engaged for five years for cable purposes, Mr. C. W. Field leaves England on the 9th. direction. Nocturnal drilling in the mountains and the marching of whole companies in the dusk of the evening have ceased to excite surprise. At Silgo, in the west of Ireland, a Fenian member of the millita had been arrested, and from other sources we learn that Fenianism prevails to a large extent among that organization. In the South, the Cork Constitution admits that the Fenians are daily increasing and gathering strength and numbers. Stray travelers have at various times come across two or three hundred men drilling together, and, were warned to pursue their way and keep dark as to what they had seen. The Cork Examiner, a Catholic paper, edited by Mr. McGuire, overwhelming disaster to them and to Ireland. In England serio prehensions have been excited London Moraing Post, regarder ministerial organ, strongly cal Government interposition befor movement has gone too far.
